Other comments: Växjö (pronounced "vek-wa"), the central community for the southern province of Småland, has full musical and cultural life in its museums, theater, cathedral and new concert hall. The large number of students creates a relaxed and friendly environment to live in. The area is a center for high-tech industry, Swedish glassworks and paper. The lakes and forests surrounding the city offer ample opportunities for recreation. Sweden has a highly developed train system so traveling to other cities is easy and affordable.
