

The Animals' Winter Home

Theme: Team Work

Once there was a farmer that had five animals. There was a cock, ox, goose, ram, and a pig. The farmer wanted to cook them for his holiday meal and the animals heard about this so they ran in to the woods, and lived there for awhile. Winter started to approach and the ox thought it would be a good idea if they built a log cabin. He went to each of the animals and asked one by one if they wanted to help him, but they all said they would last through the winter perfectly without a cabin. So the Ox built his cabin and lived there happily, but then the other animals came to the Ox one by one because they were too cold. The Ox was generous enough to let them in, but then a wolf and bear heard about them living there. They came down to the cabin, but the animals worked together to scare them away, and they were never messed with again.

Kiera Gallup Freshman

I am from Concord, North Carolina. My major is Theatre. I love peppermint Ice cream. I like to dance. I was born in Raleigh, North Carolina. I go to UNC Greensboro. I live in Mary Foust which is an amazing dorm. I took Art of Storytelling to help improve my storytelling skills. (In the picture I am on the left.)

