

greetings from the department of interior architecture!

With the new school year, we inaugurate the [i] news, a digital communication from the department that features items of interest and the latest happenings in design. We certainly hope you'll enjoy being in the loop on this list.

We held off until after Labor Day to send you missive...and we've certainly got a busy fall semester planned in the Department, including two lectures in October, one by Blair Kamin, Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and Chicago Tribune architecture critic, the second by Lucy Aiken-Johnson, Ai3 Atlanta, who will speak on her work; the unveiling of an exhibit on Modernism in Greensboro in November at the Gatewood Gallery and the Elon University School of Law; and our usual schedule of critiques and end-of-semester projects in December. Future [i] news updates will provide details about these events. Refer to the list of dates at the bottom of this email to mark your calendar.

In celebration of the conclusion of senior thesis in summer 2007, students painted the UNCG Rock with brackets.
Photograph by Melanie Sloan.

student awards

In addition to more than $14,000 in scholarship money distributed through the School of Human Environmental Sciences, several students have been nominated or have been named recipients of regional and national scholarships: Edgar Cabrera (4th year), the recipient of the IIDA Carolinas Chapter Scholarship; Adrian Boggs, the recipient of the IFDA Ruth Clark Scholarship as well as the Construction Professionals Network Scholarship through the Community Foundation of Greater Greensboro; Jenny Thornton (4th year) and Edgar Cabrera, both nominees for the Donghia Foundation Scholarship, and Kathryn Freeman (4th year) and Ana Monge (4th year), nominees for the Gensler Brinkmann Scholarship to be judged and awarded next month. Congratulations to all these fine scholars and their efforts to pursue scholarships outside of UNCG...and a special thanks to the donors of the HES scholarships who enable so many students to continue their education with strong financial support.

Other student awards include an undergraduate research assistant to Leah Rowland (4th year), working with faculty member Tina Sarawgi; student excellence awards (given by the Lloyd International Honors College) to Jevin Dornic (5th year) and Jennifer René Tate (5th year). Jevin also received financial support through the Office of Leadership and Service-Learning to support his senior thesis work this summer. Ana Monge (4th year) won the design competition for RF Micro's lobby, a studio project from last spring led by adjunct faculty member Cathy Nowicki. Congratulations to all these fine students in these various endeavors.

Katie Worley, Angie Ploch, Lindsay Rowland, June 2007

life after iarc

Alums Angie Ploch (Class of 2005), Katie Worley (Class of 2006), and Lindsay Rowland (Class of 2006) all gathered for lunch with faculty member Patrick Lucas in June in celebration of the beginning of summer. Angie and Katie are both working for Lambert Architecture (Winston) and Lindsay for Calloway Johnson Moore + West (Winston).

In the Triangle, alum Jill Rossi (Class of 1998) was featured in the Raleigh News + Observer in August, talking about her sculpture, her new line of baby apparel and her silk screen prints. Read the news article by following this link:

www.newsobserver.com/371/story/659630.html You can also find Jill on line: www.jillrossi.com

We want to hear from you!! Let us know where you are working and good things that are happening in your design practice and your work. We'll be glad to share the highlights with members of this list as proof that there IS life after iarc.

urban studio rides again

Robert Charest, director of Iarc's Urban Studio has announced plans for urban studio 02 : my sister's house, a partnership with the YWCA of Greensboro, to build a home for teenage mothers and their children. Watch this [i] news for more updates on this project to be designed beginning in spring 2008 and built in the 2008-2009 school year!

[i] dates for your calendar

lecture : Blair Kamin, Why Architecture Matters: Greensboro + Beyond

Thursday 18 October 2007, 5:30pm, Empire Room, Elm Street, Greensboro

lecture : Lucy Aiken-Johnson, Ai3 Atlanta

Wednesday 24 October 2007, 4:30pm, Bryan School of Business Auditorium, UNCG opportunity : iarc internship fair

Wednesday, 7 November 2007, 12noon-1pm, Gatewood Building

an open invitation to learn about student internships

exhibit : close to home : edward loewenstein + modernism in greensboro

Gatewood Gallery, Elon University School of Law, opening: Thursday, 8 November 2007, 7pm

for complete details : modernism.uncg.edu reviews : 3, 5, 7 + 10 december 2007, 9am-12noon, 1-4pm each day

your opportunity to see work from all the design studios in the program

If you do not wish to receive the [i] news from the UNCG Department of Interior Architecture, kindly let us know and we'll remove you from our distribution list. Know of someone who should receive [i] news, forward this edition on and let us know their e-mail so we can add them to our list. [i] news is edited by patrick lucas who gladly accepts all responsibilities for factual errors. send emails directly to him : pllucas@uncg.edu, or call 336.256.0308.

iarc on the web : www.uncg.edu/iar

Z