

Department of Nutrition
University of North Carolina at Greensboro

Tentative NTR 609 Seminar Schedule, Spring 2011

Location: Petty Building, Room 213

Time: Mondays, 3:00-4:00 pm (3:00-5:00 pm in the event of two speakers)

DATE	SPEAKER	TITLE OF TALK
1/10/11	No seminar – class orientation
1/17/11	Holiday-Martin Luther King Day-no seminar
1/24/11	Steve Fordhal Doctoral student	Cellular regulation of GABA and dopamine transporters in manganese neurotoxicity
1/31/11	Craig Hadley, PhD Assistant Professor Department of Anthropology Emory University	The Causes And Consequences Of Food Insecurity Among Refugees Resettled In The USA
2/7/11	Bradley Ferguson Doctoral Candidate	Obesity, inflammation and diabetes: Manipulating MAPk's by dual-specificity phosphatases
2/14/11	Candidate for Chair position	TBA
2/21/11	Candidate for Chair position	TBA
2/28/11	Candidate for Chair position	TBA
3/7/11	Spring Break-No seminar
3/14/11	Mri Datta Doctoral Candidate	Impact of tomato carotenoids in prostate cancer patients undergoing radiation therapy
3/21/11	Anna Matteson Master's candidate	Determinants of weight status differ by age, ethnicity, and gender among low-income children in Guilford County
3/28/11	Kristina Martinez Doctoral candidate	Diacylglycerol kinases mediate t-10,c-12 conjugated linoleic acid-induced inflammation and insulin resistance in human adipocytes
4/4/11	Julie Wallace, PhD Northern Ireland Center for Food and Health University of Ulster	Vitamin D-factors which alter synthesis and status
4/11/11	No seminar-Experimental Biology Meeting
4/18/11	Shatha Farah Master's candidate	Creatine as a neuroprotective agent against manganese neurotoxicity
4/25/11	Gina Moening Master's candidate	The effect of a behavioral intervention program on the diet quality of postpartum overweight or obese mothers