

Web3 Project Team

07/16/06

Present: Miriam Barkley, Bo Bodenhamer, Richard Cox, David Rivera, Jason Fleck, Rob Owens, Kevin McClain

Absent: Jaysen Buterin, Andrew Marker

Recorder: Sherri MacCheyne

Style Sheets

Richard will be developing a hand held CSS in the next few months. This CSS is not going to target a specific hardware device.

Social

The next UWDG social is July 16 at 4pm at the El Carreton.

Certification

Not all Web3 members have taken the certification exam. It has to be done before WebFest.

Kevin has graded the exams that have been taken. The grading was based on three issues, validity, content update, and university identity issues. About ½ of the grades to date are A's, and ½ are B's. The test has been updated based on comments from w3.

WebFest

The WebFest is August 10 from 12:30-2pm in Cone Ballroom and includes lunch. The lunch is a deli style buffet. Kevin has sent a blanket invitation to the UWDG. He will be explicitly inviting the supervisors of folks who have passed the certification test.

Rob Owens will print the certificates once we have determined the text.

Kevin is looking into gifts for this event. If anyone has ideas, please let Kevin know.

Level 1 Certification

We need to survey the folks who pass the test to see why they feel they passed. What roll did the classes take?

The main complaint we have received is in Element K – the Dreamweaver tutorial is outdated.

Level 2 Certification

Should level 2 be geared toward designers? Should we use Element K as a teaching tool for CSS? Should the classes include basic Forms?

Level 3 Certification

Should we create 2 separate level 3 certifications? One for developers and one for designers?

The next meeting is Thursday, July 27, 2006.

However, because we do not yet have a meeting room and because several Web3 members will be away from campus, the meeting may be cancelled. An email notice will be forthcoming.