TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Course Instructor

Spring 2027 Seminar in Parent-Child Relations (HDF 721), UNC Greensboro

Fall 2026 Development of School-Age Children (HDF 201), UNC Greensboro

Fall 2022 - Spring 2023 Principles of Learning 3 (PSY 240), UNC Greensboro

Summer 2023 – Spring 2026 Research Experience Workshop, CAMINOS Lab, UNC Greensboro
This two-month workshop gave undergraduate students the opportunity to conduct a literature search on a research topic, develop their own research question, learn how to use to complete data analyses, and pull together an abstract on their findings for submission to a research conference. To date, 21 students have participated.

Course Co-Instructor

Summer 2023 - Research Experience in Psychology (PSY 433), UNC Greensboro

Spring 2026 This in-person seminar course provides students with content knowledge in clinical and developmental research on race, racism, and culture. Students discuss journal articles, write reaction papers analyzing studies, develop and design their own research study, and build their research skills within a laboratory setting. To date, I have served as instructor for 60 enrolled students and 61 volunteers at UNC Greensboro.

Guest Lecturer or Guest Speaker

2025 Infant Development, Utah State University

Gave a 90-minute lecture on the theoretical foundations of parent-child coregulation, prevailing methodologies and current evidence, and limitations and strengths of this approach.

2021 Parent-Child Dynamics Lab, The Pennsylvania State University

Led a 120-minute training on the Trier social stress test and salivary cortisol data collection.

2021 Hoyle Lab, Duke University

Gave a 60-minute lecture on parent-child coregulation and the methodologies that can be used to study it.
